Starting formation

Individual dancer

Dance action

The dancer does an individual about-face turn, means 180 degrees, in place, turning toward partner unless the body flow dictates otherwise. If the dancer does not have a partner, the dancer turns toward the center of the set. If the solo dancer is facing directly toward or away from the center of the set, the turn may be in either direction.

Ending formation

Individual dancer

Styling

Isolated dancer: Arms in natural dance position.
Adjacent dancers connected with a handhold: Release the handhold, perform the dance action, and reconnect with the appropriate handhold either couple or mini wave. Couples promenading in Skater's position can U-Turn Back without releasing handholds by turning towards each other.
